GOVERNMENT OUTLAWS STRIKE

Fuel Administration, With Price Fixing, To Be Revived

TO PROTECT WORKERS

Will in no Way Impair General Right to Strike—Miners' Action Places Them Outside Pale of Law.

The government moved swiftly last night in its announced intention to prevent the coal strike.

Following the receipt of word from Indianapolis where the international executive board of the United Mine Workers was in session yesterday that the strike order, set for November 1, would not be rescinded, Attorney General Palmer on behalf of the administration, declared in a statement that "every resource of the Federal Government will be brought to bear to prevent the national disaster which would inevitably result from the cessation of mining operations."

Mr. Palmer issued his statement after a meeting in which all members of the Cabinet, with the exception of those who accompanied the King and Queen of the Belgians in their visit to Mount Vernon this afternon were present.

The government will act with the powers conferred on the President by the food and fuel control acts.

Protection will be furnished those miners who refuse to carry out the strike order and remain at their work. This means that troops will be sent to coal producing States if violent measures are adopted by the miners' unions to swell the ranks of the strikers.

One of the first steps by the President, however, will be for the protection of the general public. Dr. Harry A. Garfield, United States Fuel Administrator, announced last night that he would advise the President to reinstate immediately the maximum government prices on bituminous coal.

Soft coal prices at present are higher than the government's maximum prices which were suspended February 1. The President's action, Dr. Garfield said, will nullify any contracts made since February 1 for coal at prices higher than the government's old maximum prices.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—The order for a nation-wide coal strike for Friday cannot be rescinded. This was cheered last night by the eighty-four representatives of the United Mine Workers of America who spent the day in conference. It was their answer to President Wilson's demand that the strike order be recalled.

"The issue has been made and it must be settled upon the field of industrial battle," said the statement addressed to the public. "Responsibility rests with the coal barons alone."

The action of the conference means that unless the operators yield at the last hour or the government comes forward with some final plan that both sides will accept, 80 per cent of the bituminous coal mines of the nation will suspend operations November 1. More than 500,000 miners will be affected. The consequent loss of production is estimated at 40,000,000 tons per month.

Something like 70 per cent of the coal miners of the country are members of the union.

ALLIES TO GET HUN SHIPS

Argentina Will Turn Over Six Interned Vessels

Buenos Aires, Oct. 30.—The six German merchant ships which took refuge in Argentine ports during the war will be delivered to the Allies in good condition. This decision is the result of diplomatic negotiations extending over several months to determine the fate of the interned steamships.

The ships are unable to proceed to sea under their own steam and Dutch tugs are therefore expected here soon to tow the vessels to Germany, where the machinery will be repaired. The ships will carry cargoes of Argentine products on the voyage to Germany.

A. H. S. LOSES TO MARINE PREPS

The Alexandria High School eleven played the Marine Preps of Washington yesterday afternoon in a hard fought game, but lost to the visitors by a score of 20 to 0.

The A. H. S. team will play Manassas on the shipyard grounds Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. There will probably be several change in the line up for Saturday's contest.

TO HOUSE NEW CITIZENS

Those Having Houses or Rooms to Rent at Reasonable Prices Should List With Chamber of Commerce

The Chamber of Commerce requests that all housekeepers and others having houses for rent, rooms for rent and apartments for rent at reasonable terms to communicate at once with that organization, as it is absolutely necessary that the high class labor and mechanics now coming to Alexandria to work at the torpedo assembly plant have proper housing facilities and be made as comfortable as can be if the city desires them to live here.

CLOTHING TORN OFF

Winchester, Va., Oct. 30.—Edgar L. Hook, a well-known mill operator at Gore, Va., barely escaped with his life today, when his clothing was ripped from his body in machinery and belting at his flour and grist mill. He was grinding corn when a projecting cob caught his sweater and jerked him toward the machine. Grabbing a large post near-by, he clung to it until all his clothing had been torn from his body, nothing remaining but his shoes. Some paper and silver money in his pockets was ground to pieces by the machinery.

Tomorrow will be Halloween and many parties and dances have been arranged for the celebration by clubs, social organizations and private parties.

Hundreds of children masked will parade the streets in fantastic costumes and noise making devices will be put into operation by the younger set.

Alexandria usually has a big parade of the younger folks on Halloween and this year promises to equal if not surpass the former ones.

The police will not permit any disorderly conduct on the part of boys who in former years have used the celebration as a cloak for what ordinarily would come under the head of disorderly conduct. Those who are disorderly will be promptly arrested.

MURDERED ON THE POTOMAC

Captain and Son Killed With Hatchet and Vessel Robbed

NEGRO IS ARRESTED

Crime Committed Near Mouth of River—Oyster Craft Found Drifting and Towed to Machodoc.

La Plata, Md., Oct. 30.—Capt. T. Wesley Dize, an oysterman, of Smith's Island, and his fourteen-year-old son, Rodney, while coming up the Potomac river early yesterday morning in the schooner James G. Blaine were attacked with a hatchet by a negro boathand who, after mortally wounding them, robber Captain Dize of $500. Captain Dize and his son both died while being conveyed in a submarine chaser to a hospital.

The negro effected a landing at or near Morgantown, and proceeded on foot towards La Plata.

Guy Barber, who operates a bus, was notified to look out for the negro along the road. He saw a negro yesterday afternoon walking along the road, and invited him to take a ride. The negro accepted, and, upon the arrival of the bus at La Plata, was turned over to the authorities here. He was immediately searched, and $500 and a hatchet were found in his possession. He is locked up in La Plata jail.

Crisfield, Md., Oct. 30.—Capt T. Wesley Dize, who with his fourteen-year-old son, Rodney, was brutally beaten and robbed by a negro boathand near the mouth of the Potomac, is a resident of Smith's Island, according to the telephone messages received here from Colonial Beach.

Captain Dize's vessel was found drifting in the Potomac and towed to Machodoc, where medical aid was summoned for Dize and his son, who were helpless from their wounds. The negro had shipped from Baltimore a short time ago.

REVIVAL MEETING

At the meeting at the First Baptist Church last night there was a high tide of religious feeling which awakened sinners and backsliders alike. The pastor, Rev. Dr. E. B. Jackson, remarked that he had never seen such a demonstration so early in a revival service. The auditorium overflows and is rapidly filling the galleries.

Rev. Mr. Stewart is making his magnetic personality felt. He spoke with unusual power and effectiveness. His text was: "Come thou blessed of the Lord, wherefore standest thou without." The courtship of Isaac through Eliezer was composed to that of Miles Standish through John Alden. The hand of the Lord was in the marriage of Isaac however, as shown by the text. He made the question, "Why standest thou without?" a basis for modern excuses. He said if the lover should try to discover possible excuses for not giving emphatic consent at the marriage altar he would be the subject of ridicule, and would not be fit to enter into the sacred marriage relation. So with the one who ought to be married to Christ—if there is any hesitation about a full committal then the ceremony must not proceed. There was the closest attention given every word as he named one excuse after another, why men hold back from this great Christian adventure. Mr. Stewart was particularly severe on those who remained out of church because there are hypocrites in it. He remarked that Christ predicted just this thing, and said that only good things were worth counterfeiting. Then in a final appeal to those who persisted in this excuse he added: "Come on with us and we will just have one more hypocrite." The tide of power is evidently rising and the meeting bids fair to rival some of the greatest meetings held in Alexandria.

Tonight he will take as his topic, "The Troubles of a Politician."

FIRE RAGING MINE

Entombed Miners Cut off From Aid Behind Wall of Flame; Officials Abandon Hope

Amsterdam, Ohio, Oct. 30.—With flames spreading back toward twenty-one miners trapped in the north passage of the No. 2 mine of the Youghiogheny ant Ohio Coal Company mine officials last night felt no hope for the men. Rescue parties formed from other workmen were able to remain in the mine only a few minutes because of the intense heat and smoke.

Four American born workmen were reported among the miners entombed when an electric generator operating a fan exploded and set fire to the wood braces, according to company officials, the flames starting 200 feet from the elevator shaft.

Partly suffocated and his clothing and hands burned, a trip driver emerged from the burning mine early last night. He related how he lay on the floor of a mine car and his mule pulled him to the shaft. He said that the other miners had started further back in the burning passage.

A huge water tank was emptied into the shaft by a company of the Steubenville Fire Department, which arrived here last night to help fight the fire. Rescue parties worked in relays in an effort to reach the entombed men.

A crowd of more than 1000 men, women and children thronged the entrance to the mine last night.

SENATOR MARTIN NEARING THE END

His Death Imminent, as Sands of Life Have Nearly Run

SICK EIGHT MONTHS

Acute Nausea, Now Suffered by Patient, Regarded as a Bad Omen—Becomes Weaker Daily.

Charlottesville, Va., Oct. 30.—Senator Martin at an early hour this morning was believed to be nearing the end. His family and close friends were near. All indications point to the appraoch of the Grim Reaper.

He has been ill eight months, thugh he never relinquished his active duties as minority leader in the senate, until the end of May, following an attack of influenza, which, with bronchial trouble that developed in February, left him with a weak heart.

On June 1st he entered the University Hospital, where his physician, Dr. John Staige Davis, found some uraemia and diabetis. The latter disappeared under treatment, but a week ago uraemia returned and the heart began to grow weaker.

Nausea set in yesterday, and as it became acute it was at once apparent that the end was near. The senator fought, however, and refused to acknowledge that the Reaper was near at hand. Too weak, hardly to stand, he left his bed more than once during the day, and when time came for the evening meal he made a bold attempt to partake of food. His militant spirit amazed all in the sick room.

TRAIN IS WRECKED

Southbound Express in Crash Near Acton—Constable's Message First Reveals Disaster

Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—Nine persons were killed and forty injured when a Southern Pacific train, southbound, was wrecked near Acton yesterday.

The cause of the wresck was undetermined early last night, but, according to railway officials it occurred on a ten degree curve and on a sharp down grade. The engine, tender, two baggage cars and five day coaches went over the embankment, tearing down telegraph and telephone lines. Three standard sleeping cars, a diner and a tourist car, composing the remainder of the tarin were on the track.

POLITICAL NOTICE

The requisites of a candidate for public office may be condensed into three general qualifications, which are: ability to perform required duties, a keen sense of responsibility incumbent on every public officer and a clearly defined character of honesty and justice.

The essential qualities enumerated are pre-eminently pronounced in Mr. Alan Brooke Prosise, now a candidate for the office of clerk, and we need only glance at the satisfactory and efficient manner in which he has acted in that capacity for the past two months. There is no question as to his ability to handle the work of the office, with which he has become thoroughly familiar, and keeps up as if there had been no break in the continuity of the regularly elected incumbent. His education in punctuality and correctness, inherent in his disposition, has been emphasized and strengthened by a period of honorable service during the war, and is brought to the work of the office in all its manly virility. His acquaintance with the duties of the office has prompted him to put forth his very best efforts, and the satisfactory manner in which he has performed the duties proves his appreciation of the responsibility attached to duties of Clerk of the Court. Every voter who has the best interests of this county at heart will not hesitate on the question, but will give their unqualified support to Mr. Alan Brooks Prosise.

UPRISING NIPPED

Cleveland Raids Reveal Nationwide Bomb Conspiracy

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 30.—A plot to assassinate Chief of Police Frank W. Smith and another high city official of Cleveland was revealed by the police yesterday, following the roundup of seven men and one woman, alleged to be directly involved in a conspiracy to spread terror throughout the country by another series of bomb explosions. Chief Smith admitted receiving a telegraphic warning from a point in the east. He would not divulge the identity of the other city official.

Chief Smith declared that evidence which police already have obtained reveals a plot for a country wide anarchistic uprising during the winter and early spring. Proof has been obtained, he said, that arms and ammunition were ordered from various makers and that home-made weapons were being prepared here in large quantities.

ROYALTY AT MOUNT VERNON

Albert Places Wreath Upon The Sarcophagus of George Washington

A European monarch, the first to set foot on the soil of the United States, yesterday honored the shrine of all lovers of democracy when Albert, King of the Belgians, laid a wreath of flowers on the grave of Washington.

It was a democrat, though a monarch, who paid tribute to the Father of the American Republic and freedom, at Mount Vernon.

In a few words, uttered in a voice that rang with sincerity, the soldier-King eulogized the man whose principles he has stood by so steadfastly.

Mount Vernon was closed to the public for the day, and only the royal party with a few guests were present. The trip down the Potomac was made on the President's yacht, Mayflower, which passed Alexandria about two o'clock. It was nearing six o'clock when the Mayflower passed upon the return trip.

NEARING LIFE'S CLOSE

As will be seen by an article on the first page of the Gazette, Senator Thomas S. Martin is about to enter the last scene of all which ends life's strange, eventful story. He is near—very near it is feared—that river without a bridge which separates mundane scenes from the shining shore. The Senator's militant spirit is still active, however, but the flesh is weak—and weakening all the time. Yesterday, while the earthly house of his tabernacle was quivering and the fact that his end was near was manifest to those ministering unto him, he made a bold attempt to partake of food. But terrible nausea caused him to desist. He will not acknowledge that the silent reaper is near, although death's shadows cast their gloom around him.

It has often been said by his associates in the higher branch of Congress that he has since he first entered the Senate displayed the industry of a beaver. He has labored in season, out of season, not only in the interests of the people of the Old Dominion whom he has so faithfully and efficiently represented, but for those of the nation at large, and the democratic party, realizing his worth, have on divers occasions shown their appreciation by crowning him with deserved honors.

Five months have elapsed since Senator Martin was forced to relinquish his duties and seek rest and medical attention. While his condition has at times fluctuated, causing the patient to suppose he would soon be reoccupying his seat in the Senate, it has always been known that no marked improvement has taken place at any time. Senator Martin has lived his allotted three score years and ten, during which time he has been faithful in every path of life.

CAPITAL, LABOR AND LAW

As between the two great factors of production, capital and labor, the law is very much on the side of labor says an exchange, which continuing says, "when Congress enacted a law to prevent combinations in restraint of trade it exempted laborers and farmers, confining its restrictions to capital.

"In the case of railroads, the law began more than 30 years ago to restrict the rights of the owners to manage their property. About a dozen years ago Congress took from the owners of the properties all right to fix the prices they could charge for their services. When war created an emergency, Congress took the railroads bodily out of the hands of their owners.

"In enacting the Adamson law and in various semi-official settlements of the claims of the men to shorter hours and higher wages the agencies of the Government have been very generally on the side of the men who work, and against the owners of the properties.

"Narly all States have Public Utility Commissions which regulate the capital, but not the labor engaged. In some cases the charges for the public service are fixed. In some the profits of the owners are fixed, directly or indirectly. The capital engaged in railroads, and in a somewhat less degree that engaged in other public utilities, is held by the Courts and by the law making power to be "charged with a public use." In all these cases the interests of the capitalists are subordinated to those of the public. But no such doctrine has been held regarding the labor involved. That is free to combine, free to fix its own charges, and free to put the public to incalculable expense and loss if the corporations do not grant all demands made upon them.

"There is undoubtedly a growing feeling in the community that if the capital engaged in public utilities is "charged with a public use," some restraints upon the labor engaged in the same is justifiable in the interest of the community. This feeling is reflected in the section of the pending railroad bill making striks on railroads unlawful."

WAKE OF BOLSHEVISM

A representative of the American Relief Association now in Russia says:

"Gatchina, Krasmoe-Selo, Tsarskoe-Selo and the other towns which I have visited in the wake of the Bolsheviki are like places on which some devastating plague had fallen. The streets are silent.

"A few gaunt, hollow-eyed people in ragged clothes are standing listlessly around. Not a single store is open. It would do no good if they were open, for there is nothing to sell and the people have no money. The factories are silent and deserted. Sometimes a dead horse is lying at the side of the street being hungrily eaten by dogs.

"Many people in Gatchina and starving to death. The American Relief Administration is doing splendid work in feeding children, but something must be done quickly for the rest of the people, especially the feeble and aged. Four old women, 2 of them blind came to the house where I am billeted this morning because they had heard I was an American and had brought food. They were so weak that they could hardly stand. They cried when I told them I had nothing in the shape of food. They went dejectedly away with their baskets still empty in their arms."

COMING WAR ON TOBACCO

The average individual may feel that the anxiety of the tobacco growers, manufacturers and dealers over the crusade now inaugurated for the prohibition of the use of their product by the American people is unnecessary, and that there is not the remotest chance that the puritans, who oppose smoking and chewing, will ever be able to stampede this country. "But," as the Richmond Times-Dispatch says, the same sort of assurance was felt regarding the liquor industry less than a decade ago. Few persons believed then that the W. C. T. U., and the Prohibition party—the only organizations actually pledged to the suppression of liquor drinking—would ever do more than preach prohibition.

But the liquor industry has now been outlawed. In a few more weeks a constitutional amendment forever barring the manufacture, importation or sale of intoxicating spirits for beverage purposes will go into effect, an amendment, more ever, which has been ratified by many more than the necessary three-fourths of the States. It is too much to assume, therefore, that the forces which have now arrayed themselves against the tobacco industry will make no headway, and the organization of tobacco producers and salesmen to combat the new campaign is timely.

"There is reason to believe that the tobacco industry will soon be placed squarely upon the defensive. The same element that waged and won the war against liquor is now organizing for a battle against tobacco in all its forms, and while it seems, off-hand, that these people have engaged in a hopeless fight, too much need not be taken for granted. The fact that the various local crusades against the tobacco habit failed does not necessarily mean that a national crusade will fail. Many local fights against liquor also failed."

GERMANY'S PAY-DAY

It is pay-day for Germany. It is to pay the greatest penalty ever paid in history for the wickedest crime recorded against civilization.

As the Baltimore American says, the desperation of Germany is disclosed by the tardy confessions of some of its leaders. Its purpose was to march through Belgium into Paris and end the war in 90 days. It failed utterly when Great Britain entered the contest. From that hour Germany knew that its fate was sealed. In its desperation it cast aside all laws of God and man and entered upon a ruthless campaign of destruction, hoping to drive its opponents into some kind of a settlement that might still save its face.

"Germany from the start did not intend to be a fair fighter, but to gouge, kick, bite and strike foul blows, whenever and wherever it could. Its desperation accounts for its bitterness over its defeat and its failure to show a sign of repentance. Fair play is not a part of its being. It is a foul fighter and very properly has been ruled out of the ring of nations until it is repentant and regenerated.

"Marshal Foch knew Germany. It is too bad that he was not left to finish his job. In its extremity Germany was not a warrior, but a murderer, a robber, an assassin and a degenerate. When the United States came into the struggle, Germany saw defeat impending. It was as desperate as a rat cornered by a terrier. It knew that its end had come.

"The sinking of the Lusitania, the widespread propaganda to destroy American industries, to spread contagion in our camps and to draw Mexico and Japan into conflict with us, were all in pursuit of the remorseless policy of a defeated and criminal nation. It was a campaign of frightfulness, such as the world had never dreamed of before."

STANDING ALL THE DAY IDLE.

A prominent merchant of Alexandria yesterday found himself in need of immediate help. He had received a large consignment of articles which it was necessary for him to remove from railroad cars immediately. He was in need of half a dozen or more laborers to perform comparatively light work. He directed one of his employees to proceed in a motor truck to certain sections inhabited mostly by colored people and procure the services of the requisite number of laborers, he being willing to pay the wages demanded. The employee knew where he was most likely to find idle men, and he proceeded to a certain pool room. It was about eleven o'clock in the morning, and he says he found thirty or forty men in or lounging about the place. He explained the nature of his visit to groups as well as to individuals, but his proffer of employment did not appeal to them. After various attempts to induce the required number to get aboard the truck, he found but one man who was willing to accompany him. The idlers urged various excuses: some were rheumatic, others alleged they had worked the previous night, etc.

Scarcity of laborers has been chronic in Alexandria lo these many years, although it seems that many persons in our city, both white and black, have but little to do.

Vagrant women are at present being arraigned in the Police Court at the instance of the health departments of the United States and State of Virginia, and while the choice "work or fight" may not be in order concerning men at present, it might be changed to "work for wages or work gratitously on the public roads of the state."

SENTENCED FOR BLASPHEMY.

Chicagoan, in Maine Speeches, Ridiculed Subjects of Religion

South Paris, Maine, Oct. 30.—Michael X. Mosckus, of Chicago, convicted of blasphemy, as a result of lectures which he delivered at Rumford recently, was sentenced to serve from one to two years in state prison by the supreme court here. The case will go to the law court in exceptions. Meantime, Mosckus was admitted to $1,500 bail.

Mosckus, who claims to be a socialist, was arrested in Chicago on the charge of publicly blaspheming in three lectures before the Lithuanian Liberal Society at Rumford. He was alleged to have ridiculed views of the Crucifixion, the Holy Trinity and other subjects of religion. During cross examination at the trial, he said he did not believe in God and that religion did not appeal to him.

It was the only case of its kind tried in this state in many years.

Last of Treaty Amendments Are Decisively Voted Down

The last of the amendments to the peace treaty, dealing with the voting power in the proposed league of nations, were defeated in the Senate yesterday.

On the amendment offered by Senator Shields, of Tennessee, the vote was 31 to 49; on the amendment by Senator Moses, of New Hampshire, the vote was 36 to 47; on the amendment by Senator Johnson, of California, the vote was 35 to 43.

The Senate also rejected an amendment by Senator Sherman, of Illinois.

The vote on the Johnson amendment was the last taken and it was the real test of strength.

With the exception of Senator Walsh of Massachusetts, all the votes were cast by Republicans; thirty-five Democrats and eight Republicans voted against it.

RIOTS IN EGYPT

Two Persons Killed And Ten Injured at Alexandria

Alexandria, Egypt, Oct. 30.—Two rioters were killed and 10 others injured and 27 policemen were hurt in a serious Nationalist demonstration Tuesday. The trouble arose when the police attempted to suppress a peaceable demonstration such as have recently been a weekly feature of political activity in Alexandria. Sticks, stones, bottles and police batons were first used.

The arrival of the Governor of Alexandria restored order for a time. Then two motor lorries with troops appeared on the scene and eventually shots were fired at the crowd.

Yesterday there was some recurrence of the trouble at the harbor side, but it was of a comparatively minor character.

NOTED FRENCH SCULPTOR

M. Bartholome, the French sculptor, famous for his statue, "Aux Morts" ("To the Dead"), which stands in the Pere Lachaise cemetery in Paris, has been selected to make a replica of this statue to be placed near the statue of Liberty.

Subscription Rates to Suit.

A Malabar newspaper has devised a novel and suggestive scheme of subscription rates. Public officers, reading rooms, zemindars, "rajahs and gentlemen," with monthly incomes under 400 rupees, are considered as class one, and pay a yearly subscription of 18 rupees for the paper. If your monthly income exceeds 100 rupees and does not exceed 400, you are in class two, and pay only 12 rupees yearly. If, however, you are in neither of the two classes mentioned, or are a student, then you are let off with a subscription of nine rupees. The paper is appropriately named The Reformer, and it would be interesting to know how this particular piece of reformation is received by subscribers.

Jocular Magistrate.

"Ten days or $5," said the magistrate, and the prisoner, a sullen looking fellow, paid the fine and was discharged. He walked moodily out of the courtroom, but when he reached the door he turned and showered a wholesale tirade of profane abuse upon the magistrate. Then he ran to the corridor, but before he could reach the street the officer gave chase. He was captured and stood again at the bar.

"Five dollars more," said the magistrate.

The money was paid.

"If you had used more chaste and refined language," the magistrate continued, waving the fellow away, "you would not have been chased and refined."

"Let's do the darn job together"
—Ches. Field

WHY is it that more and more smokers (millions now) are getting together with Chesterfields?

First of all, fine tobaccos. Our own buyers in the Orient send us the pick of the finest Turkish varieties (Xanthi, Cavalla, Smyrna and Samsoun). We blend these by a secret method with specially choice Domestic leaf.

This method brings out new qualities of flavor—a smoothness, a richness, a mellowness that go right to the spot. That's the reason Chesterfields satisfy.

And remember—"Satisfy" is Chesterfield's secret, based on our own private formula, which cannot be copied.

Every package has a moisture-proof wrapping—another reason for Chesterfield's unchanging quality of flavor.

TESTS OUR DRINKING WATER

Tests of drinking water throughout the United States and its possessions are made at the water resources laboratory of the geological survey under the direction of C. H. Kidwell. Mr. Kidwell has been in charge of the work for the past two years and is one of the youngest chemists in the service of Uncle Sam. The latest undertaking is to mark the poison wells and insanitary drinking places in the national parks and the lanes of tourist travel.

Musician's Memory Honored.

Beethoven park in Vienna has been frequented by countless tourists, it being a natural park named in honor of the composer. In Beethoven's prime he used to spend hours each day under a certain tree composing music, and upon this spot a wooden stump remains with an inscription to that effect. Close by is an old iron bench upon which he used to rest. To the left is a beautiful statue of the musician in life size. A large fountain plays in front of this picturesque place and large trees and flowers surround it, making it all in all the most attractive section of the park.

Some Guy.

It was a cold and cheerless night. The wind blew in from the northeast, cutting down the veracity of the real estate men by 50 per cent. On the deck of a boat stood a female tourist. Her eye caught the glint of the breakwater lighthouse. For a long time she watched. Then she turned to her companion.

"How patient those lighthouse men must be," she said.

"Patient! How so?"

"The wind has blown that light out ten times and each time they've lighted it again. It's simply wonderful."

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 117 of article 8 of the Constitution of Virginia, and providing for publishing said amendment and certifying the same to the next general assembly.

Resolved by the senate and the house of delegates (a majority of the members elected to each house agreeing thereto), That the following amendment to the Constitution of Virginia be, and the same is hereby, proposed and referred to the general assembly to be chosen at the next general election of senators and members of the house of delegates, for its concurrence, in conformity to the provisions of section one hundred and ninety-six of article fifteen of said Constitution, namely:

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and seventeen, which is in the words and figures following, to-wit:

Section 117. General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house; and except also in the case of cities having more than fifty thousand inhabitants, as hereinafter provided. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this amendment a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended so as to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

Notwithstanding, however, anything in this article contained the general assembly may, by general law or by special act (passed as prescribed in article four of this Constitution), depart in any respect (except as otherwise in this section expressly provided) from the form of organization and government prescribed by this article for cities and towns, and may provide, from time to time, for the various cities and towns of the Commonwealth such form or forms of municipal government as the general assembly may deem best; but no form or forms of government authorized by the second paragraph of this section shall become operative except as to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of its qualified electors at an election to be held as may be prescribed therefor by law. All the limitations on the powers of the councils of cities and towns imposed by this article shall apply in like manner to the principal legislative authority under any form of government which may be authorized hereunder. The term "council" as used in sections one hundred and twenty-five and one hundred and twenty-seven of this Constitution shall be construed to include the body which, under any form of municipal government, shall be vested with the principal legislative authority of such municipality.

The general assembly, for the purpose of this article, may classify cities according to their population, but the maximum population prescribed for any class shall exceed the minimum population for the same class by at least ten thousand. The general assembly, at the request, made in manner which may be prescribed by law, of any city having a population of over fifty thousand inhabitants, may grant a special form of government for such city.

Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurer and city sergeants.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

Sec. 117. (a) General laws for the organization and government of cities and towns shall be enacted by the general assembly, and no special act shall be passed in relation thereto, except in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution, and then only by a recorded vote of two-thirds of the members elected to each house. But each of the cities and towns of the State having at the time of the adoption of this Constitution a municipal charter may retain the same, except so far as it shall be repealed or amended by the general assembly; provided, that every such charter is hereby amended to conform to all the provisions, restrictions, limitations and powers set forth in this article, or otherwise provided in this Constitution.

(b) The general assembly may, by general law or by special act, (passed in the manner provided in article four of this Constitution), provide for the organization and government of cities and towns without regard to, and unaffected by any of the provisions of this article (except those of section one hundred and twenty-four, one hundred and twenty-five, except so far as the provisions of section one hundred and twenty five restrict the veto power of the mayor and the power of veto) one hundred and twenty-six, one hundred and twenty-seven, and one hundred and twenty-eight of this article, and those provisions of section one hundred and twenty-six of this article, relating to the filling of said sections shall include the power to provide by ordinance of the city for the city or town, and all ordinances enacted and resolutions adopted by such body shall have the same force and effect for all purposes as if enacted or adopted in accordance with the provisions of section one hundred and twenty-three of this article. But such organization and government shall apply only to such cities or towns as may thereafter adopt the same by a majority vote of those qualified voters of any such city or town voting in an election to be held for the purpose, as may be provided by law.

(c) The general assembly, at the request of any city or town made in manner provided by law, may grant to it any special form of organization and government authorized by sub-section (b) of this section, and subject to all of the provisions of that sub-section, except that it shall not be necessary for such city or town to thereafter adopt the same.

(d) Any laws or charters enacted pursuant to the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of this Constitution relating expressly to judges and clerks of courts, attorneys for the Commonwealth, commissioners of revenue, city treasurers and city sergeants.

(e) Any form of organization and government authorized by any provision of this section which may have been adopted heretofore by any city or town pursuant to any act of the general assembly enacted before such provision became effective, and which is now in operation, is hereby declared legal and valid ab initio, and shall have the same force and effect as if it had been authorized by this Constitution at the time of its adoption.

A RESOLUTION proposing amendment to section 133 of article 9 of the Constitution of Virginia.

Strike out from the Constitution of Virginia section one hundred and thirty-three of article nine, which is in the following words:

Section 133. Each magisterial district shall constitute a separate school district, unless otherwise provided by law. In each school district there shall be three trustees selected, in the manner and for the term of office prescribed by law.

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

And insert in lieu thereof the following:

AVOID THE "FLU" BUILD UP NOW

You can almost surely escape the "Flu" and Grippy Colds this Fall by Taking Chasco- Vin a Most Palatable Body-Building Tonic.

Don't put it off its much easier to keep the "Flu" away than it is to cure it.

No one would have the awful experience of a year ago repeated hence all should take every precaution, especially those who are weak nervous and run-down. They absolutely need Chasco-Vin.

During the last epidemic thousands were safeguarded by taking Chasco-Vin, a body-building tonic that does build.

It is the toning up of the system that counts in keeping the "Flu" away.

In conjunction with Chasco-Vin we advise using a good anti-septic solution for the throat and nose and also that the bowels be kept open.

Chasco-Vin is sold by Edgar Warfield, jr., King and Pitt Streets.

It raises your cakes, biscuits and muffins just right—makes all home baking of that even texture and appetizing appearance sought for by all good cooks.

STRIKERS ADMIT DEFEAT

Labor Official Tells Army Officer Walkout Is Near Collapse

Chicago, October 30.—Following a statement to the effect that the steel workers had lost the strike, made to military leaders in Gary by L. E. Titus, a member of the Steel Workers' Council here, John Fitzpatrick chairman of the national committee directing the strike, said:

"The strike is won, no matter what the outcome may be."

"There is no use pretending," Titus had said to Col. W. S. Mapes, commanding the regular troops "The men are going back to work. The strike is lost and the army is responsible"

In explaining his statement, Mr. Fitzpatrick said:

"Strikes may be won even though they are lost. This struggle is only laying the groundwork for future battles."

MAKING AMERICAN MONEY

Counterfeiters Caught in Big Game In Austria

Vienna, Oct. 30.—A group of counterfeiters who were arranging to print a large amount of American ten dollar bills, have been detected and arrested under peculiar circumstances. A member of a well-known engraving firm, on his return to the city after a business trip, found that his firm had made a die which had been taken to the shop of a well-known printer. He notified the police, who found spurious bills to the amount of $50,000 already printed and awaiting delivery.

The printer explained that certain men had called on him and presented papers ostensibly from the police, representing that they were members of a Ukrainian commission and had authority from the American government to print an issue of this money.

CARING FOR POOR WOMAN IN TENEMENT

The district or visiting nurse, who makes regular rounds without charge to her patients, advising her about the care of the baby and about sanitation or dietetics, is sorely needed in thousands of communities in the United States—in both town and country. Upon the success of the Red Cross membership campaign—the roll call of Americanism and humanitarianism—November 2 to 11, will partially depend the extent to which the American Red Cross will be able to carry on such work. SHOT IN RAID

Federal Revenue Agents Meet With Opposition in New York Saloon

New York, Oct. 30.—Two men weer shot last night in the first raid in this city made by Federal revenue agents acting under the provisions of the Volstead act. The officials entered a crowded saloon on Forty-second street, and in the ensuing scuffle the shooting occurred.

This raid was followed by others, all of which were confined to the "white light" district. They were directed by Col. G .L. Porter, supervising internal revenue agent for the New York district, from his headquarters in the customs house.

The shooting in the Forty-second street saloon is said to have occurred when a revenue agent started to make an arrest. Both men injured received flesh wounds, and were held as material witnesses. They gave their names as Thomas Tcomey, of Newport, N. H., and Edward Delea, of New York.

The first move of New York liquor dealers to test the constitutionality of the war time prohibition law since the passage of the enforcement act over the President's veto was made yesterday by the filing of suit in Feedral district court against William H. Edwards, collector of the second internal revenue district here. A liquor wholesaler brought the action, alleging the war time prohibition law to be void and illegal.

Col. Porter received instructions from Washington yesterday afternoon that the prohibition enforcement law went into effect at 3:40 p. m., yesterday. Revenue agents were given orders to see that the law was enforced.

STRIKES NOT USEFUL

Labor Head Appeals to Farmers, at Congress, to Organize

Hagerstown, Md., Oct. 30.—"The strike is an antiquated institution," declared John H. Ferguson, president of the Baltimore Federation of Labor, addressing a session of the farmers' national congress yesterday. He said the strike might have been useful in the past, but the present calls for mediation and arbitration as means for settling labor disputes. He defended the labor unions, declaring them to be loyal to this country. He said he was opposed to dynamite methods. He appealed to the farmers to organize, saying labor wanted their aid.

The bullet passed through the head of the infant, who was being held by its mother.

DRUG CLERKS TO STRIKE

4,500 in New York Vote to Walk Out This Week

New York, Oct. 30.—A strike that will vitally affect New York's millions was voted early Tuesday by representatives of 4,500 drug clerks. After an all night meeting the men voted, 1,430 to 70, to walk out during the week, leaving the date to be determined by their officers. Union officials said that the men involved comprised 90 per cent. of all the drug clerks in the city.

The clerks demand an eight hour day, a closed shop and an average increase in wages of 35 per cent. Soda clerks, cashiers and other employes in drug stores are included in the union membership.

One thousand union retail grocery clerks went on strike yesterday for a nine hour day and a salary of $30 a week. Salaries now average $18 in independent stores, according to the union, and from $25 to $28 in chain stores. Clerks must work from 10 to 14 hours a day. The union announced it would attempt to oraginze the 18,000 grocery and dairy clerks of the city and call a general strike.

CANNOT FORCE MINERS

Washington, Oct. 30.—"The government cannot force miners to dig coal or men to move trains, not with all the soldiers in the world," declares W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen.

"If it can, then men are in a conditin of involuntary servitude. It would mean no man could quit his job if his employer were powerful enough to secure government intervention," Lee continued.

The coal miners have been pledged the support of the four big railroad brotherhoods, should their threat to strike be carried out and should the government attempt to work the mines, it became known yesterday, although W. G. Lee refused to make a definite stateemnt as to this action.

FARMERS LOYAL

Resolutions Are Passed Unanimously at Farmers' National Congress

Strong resolutions pledging their support to the government in the present national crisis, and a stirring plea for the organization of all farmers and farming interests looking to an era of justice and prosperity for the American farmer, were among the most important items dealt with at Tuesday's session of the Farmers' National Congress which met in joint session with the Maryland Agricultural Society and the Farm Women's Congress.

The resolutions with references to the pledged support of the farmers was practically unanimously adopted. The resolution follows: "We believe that the conservative American farmer should continue to be on guard to prevent the development and spread of radical theories and the tendency of certain elements of our population to vitiate the fundamental principles of American institutions for which an untold treasury has been spent and the sacred blood of America's sons has been sacrificed. Therefore be it resolved, That we, the members of the Farmers' National Congress and the Maryland Agricultural Society, in annual convention do pledge our steadfast support to President Wilson and all agencies of the government for the orderly conduct of national affairs and the fearless administering of national laws in this critical period of our history."
